Shoeman Found Nailed To Wall

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Police questioned more than 30 persons here Tuesday night about the macabre death of a little shoemaker found here Monday nailed to a wall of his shop. All are members of a pseudo-religious sect to which the shoemaker, George Krausert, 64, belonged. He was reported to have played a leading role in the sect. Officers said they are sure Krausert committed suicide, insanely imagining himself to be a religious martyr. But they added that others may have helped him.

India To Meet With Red China

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India agreed Tuesday to meet with Red China on the uneasy Tibetan frontier to receive 10 Indian policemen captured in a border clash. But New Delhi showed its displeasure with Peiping by sending off another note to the Red Chinese capital. A Foreign Ministry spokesman said the note details troubles Indian nationals are having in Tibet and demands remedial measures.

Nine Bodies
The bodies of nine Indian policemen killed in an Aug. 23 encounter with Chinese troops in the remote Ladakh region will be handed over at the same time the captive policemen are returned under terms of Peiping's offer. A government spokesman said India's ambassador in Peiping has asked the Chinese to specify a time and place for the exchange. Peiping claims the region where the encounter took place belongs to Red China. New Delhi said the area is 40 miles inside Indian territory. Chinese troops are believed still occupying the region.

Reuther Talks At Methodist Conference

BUCK HILL FALLS—Neither side has revealed all the facts behind the steel strike, Victor Reuther, special assistant to the president of the United Auto Workers, said Tuesday night. He did not elaborate. Reuther spoke at the opening of a three-day briefing conference of 100 Methodist social action leaders from 12 northeastern states.

He said the church can perform a real service in labor-management relations by helping to see that facts are made public on all issues which come up. In that manner, he said, public opinion can be brought to bear on both sides of a labor dispute.

Formula
The nation must somehow arrive at a formula to solve automation's problems, he told the church leaders. "We cannot ignore the human factor," he said. He reminded them workers also are consumers and asked who will buy if products are made virtually without hands. He predicted the pool of unemployed would increase and become permanent if work isn't started now on the national, state and local level to solve the problems arising from automation.

United States Fires Back At Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—The United States indignantly told Cuba Tuesday a deliberate attempt is being made under the Castro regime to wreck Cuban-American relations.

American Ambassador Philip W. Bonsal denied Prime Minister Fidel Castro's charges that Cuba is being air-bombed with U.S. permission from Florida bases. Bonsal emerged grim-faced from an hour-long visit with President Osvaldo Dorticos in the presidential palace. Outside the palace Monday night Castro charged at a loyalty rally that the United States is tolerating bombing of Cuba by enemy Cubans self-exiled in Florida.

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba Tuesday night defiantly rejected U.S. protests over Prime Minister Fidel Castro's attacks on the United States and moved to revive military trials for Castro's enemies at home.

The Castro charges before about 250,000 Cubans massed at the palace pitched Cuban-American relations at perhaps their lowest since Cuban liberation from Spain in 1898.

Tuesday the State Department made a double-barreled reply: in Bonsal's 8-page statement to President Dorticos—who serves as Castro's choice for chief of state—and in a separate statement.

There was no immediate Cuban reply to the American statements.

Castro's Cabinet Tuesday night decided to reinstate military tribunals to try Cubans accused of counter-revolutionary activities. The measure was designed to deal with growing opposition to Castro's policies at home.

Military tribunals had tried and condemned to execution by firing squad more than 550 persons accused of being war criminals after Castro forces took over Cuba last Jan. 1. Castro did away with them in July and turned the cases of those still held prisoner over to civil courts.

A crowd in Havana Tuesday shouted demands of death for the Chicago Tribune's Latin American correspondent, Jules Dubois, as he filed a dispatch at a telephone office. Police escorted him away from the mob and there was no reported trouble. Dubois has criticized the Cuban government and has been publicly denounced by the Castro regime.

It was understood Castro and his Cabinet would thoroughly study the American statements on worsening of relations before any reply is made.

Shocked And Amazed
Bonsal told Dorticos the United States is shocked and amazed at Castro's charges that planes were permitted to fly from U.S. bases to bomb Cuba.

Commenting generally on Castro's anti-U.S. attacks, the State Department said: "Not only are such charges utterly unfounded but they can only contaminate that atmosphere of good faith which should prevail in the relations of neighbor states."

The State Department said Cuba has not responded to requests for specific evidence to back up Castro's charges of American-based attacks on Cuba.

Argues Motion
He argued his motion to throw out the conspiracy indictments before three Luzerne County Common Pleas Court judges sitting en banc. The three are J. Harold Flannery, Thomas M. Lewis, and Frank L. Pinola.

The defendants are Louis Fabrizio, president and treasurer of Knox; August J. Lippi, president of District 1, United Mine Workers; and Robert L. Dougherty, former president of Knox.

The judges heard arguments Monday on a motion to quash involuntary manslaughter charges against these three and four other men.

Both motions were taken under advisement.

The indictments stem from a grand jury investigation of a flood at Knox' Port Griffith mine. The Susquehanna River broke through its bed last January, trapping 33 miners. Twelve bodies never were recovered.

Soviet Union Announces Huge Budget

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government announced Tuesday a record high budget for 1960 and said defense spending will be frozen at this year's level. Funds for scientific development were increased 15.4 per cent.

Total income projected for 1960—the second year of a seven-year plan in which the Soviet Union proposes to push production ahead of that of the United States—is 772 billion rubles.

Expecting to keep the book-keeping in black ink as the U.S.S.R. has done since World War II, Premier Nikita Khrushchev's government proposes to spend 744,800,000,000 rubles.

Except for 10-cent deals with foreign visitors, the Soviet Union regards the ruble as worth 25 cents and this official rate is considered reasonably accurate in the government's domestic operations.

But Finance Minister Vasilii Garbuzov told 1,335 members of Parliament—the Supreme Soviet—that defense expenditures are set at 96 billion rubles, the same as in 1959. He said the 12.9 per cent of the national revenue to go to the armed forces compares with 19.9 per cent in 1953.

More than half of the U.S. budget goes for defense, the U.S. Defense Department was allocated about 41 billion dollars in January. The Budget Bureau estimates total spending will be nearly 79 billion. The 41 billion, however, represents less than 10 per cent of the total U.S. national income.

At the official rate, the money earmarked for the Soviet army, navy and air force totals 24 billion dollars. Other figures for military spending are not available.

Civilian appropriations and other projects come under science and education. Construction of arms plants is included in capital investment spending.

U. S. Shows Concern For Industry
WILKES-BARRE (AP)—The federal government is showing concern for the plight of U.S. manufacturers, Rep. Richard W. Simpson (R-Pa.) told a group of Pennsylvania industrialists Tuesday night.

"In the past few weeks, federal agencies appear to have become aware of the discrimination being practiced by Communist nations against products manufactured in this country," Simpson said.

"The realization seems finally to have dawned on them that the dollar gap has been closed and the time has come to remind the countries that we have been supporting financially for years that we expect some reciprocity."

Simpson's remarks were made in an address prepared for the 44th annual dinner meeting of the Manufacturers' Assn. of Luzerne County.

Simpson listed these two actions by federal agencies as indications of what he termed the new concern for American manufacturers:

1. Adoption by the development loan fund of a policy requiring foreign borrowers to spend more of the funds they obtain for goods produced in the United States.

2. The recommendation by the Treasury Dept. that the International Cooperation Administration reduce its purchases of products manufactured abroad 500 million dollars annually.

Simpson praised the International Monetary Fund for declaring that non-Communist nations have no justification for maintaining special restrictions against the importation of U.S. goods. He said he believed this announcement should have a beneficial effect on the current Tokyo meeting of the 37 member nations of the general agreement of tariffs and trade.

Meeting With Ike
WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, a potential bidder for Republican presidential nomination, will confer with President Eisenhower at the White House Wednesday.

Post Office Working On Letter System

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department disclosed Tuesday it is developing a system designed to speed a letter coast to coast in an instant—over microwave radio or coaxial cable.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield barely lifted the veil of secrecy that has shrouded the plan. He didn't say when the marvel might be ready for public use or what it might cost to transmit a letter.

His cautiously worded statement was issued only after word of the experiment circulated at the 50th annual meeting of the National Assn. of Postmasters of the United States.

There was no direct reference to the revolutionary mail system at the convention, but both Summerfield and President Eisenhower mentioned it in their speeches.

Summerfield spoke Monday, and the President Tuesday.

Organ History
Summerfield traced the history of the mail from the Pony Express 150 years ago and said mail now is flown coast to coast in about 54 hours.

The prospects are, however, eligible in the future to deliver mail in a matter of minutes.

Officially declined to say any more.

He said the department hopes facilities for the future will be less than the current seven-cent a mile rate.

This would be less than the $2 to $4 a page Western Union Telegraph Co. will charge for a similar service it announced Monday.

On Dec. 1, Western Union will make available an intercity facsimile service linking Washington, New York City, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

It was learned, despite secrecy, that the department last July awarded a $140,000 research contract to International Telephone & Telegraph Co. to develop a high-speed facsimile letter service.

Motherwell Indicted By Grand Jury
DOWNTOWN, Calif. (AP)—Larry Lord Motherwell, 43, was indicted on a murder charge Tuesday in the bizarre slaying of Pearl Putney, his elderly cross-country traveling companion.

The Sierra County grand jury returned the indictment.

The whitened bones and skull of the 72-year-old Washington, D.C., widow were found in a forested area near Downville last Aug. 16. How and when she died remains a mystery.

Death Penalty
Dist. Atty. Gordon I. Smith, who paraded 20 witnesses before the 12-member grand jury, said he would seek the death penalty.

Motherwell, in the Sierra County jail since Sept. 14, took the news calmly. He said he was disappointed but confident of acquittal.

Arraignment was continued until Nov. 9 to give Motherwell time to get a California attorney to aid his Washington lawyer, John T. Reges.

Motherwell and Mrs. Putney, who reportedly carried over $50,000 in cash and securities, departed on a cross-country motor tour from Washington on June 20, 1958. They were last seen together Aug. 15, 1958, in Marysville, Calif., 75 miles down the mountain from here.

Quick Glances At Steel Strike

(By The Associated Press)
SETTLEMENTS—Detroit Steel Corp. small nonunion producer follows lead of struck Kaiser Steel Corp. and signs contract with United Steelworkers.

Negotiations—Union committees talk individually with 13 firms in Pittsburgh, others elsewhere. No industrywide bargaining held or scheduled.

Reaction—U. S. Steel Chairman Roger Blough terms Kaiser settlement too costly, asserts U.S. Steel and other companies won't settle on same basis.

Court Action—U.S. 3rd Circuit Court of Appeals upholds Taft-Hartley injunction temporarily halting strike, but permits walkout to continue until at least Monday while union appeals to U.S. Supreme Court.

Washington Developments—Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said he will ask the Supreme Court today for a prompt return of Stelworkers to the mills and will ask that the union be required to file its appeal by noon Thursday.

Lawrence To Fill Post On PUC

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. David L. Lawrence said Tuesday he was "pretty sure" he would name a Democrat to a $19,000-a-year vacancy on the Public Utility Commission.

The appointment will be made before the 1959 Legislature adjourns finally, he said in declining to speculate on names.

The Republican-controlled Senate has held up since last April the confirmation of William F. O'Hara, Scranton, to a PUC post. With the recent death of Republican Henry Houck, Shemondah, there are now two vacancies on the rate-fixing body.

The commission is now operating with three members—two Republicans and a Democrat. Any PUC action requires a positive vote by all three.

Removing Control
The addition of two Democrats to the PUC would mean removing Republican control of the agency for the first time in nearly 20 years. Some 300 patronage jobs are at stake.

Other news conference developments:
Gasoline Tax—The governor refused to give up as dead his proposal to increase the five-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax to six cents to raise 60 million dollars in the next two years.

The Senate Finance Committee already has pigeonholed the measure, and its chairman, Sen. Edward J. Kessler (R-Lancaster), says it has no chance of passage.

Republicans are proposing increasing passenger automobile tags from $10 a year to $15 as a partial substitute for the gasoline tax boost, Lawrence said he had no views on that plan at this point.

Election—Election night will see Lawrence watch the returns come in at the Allegheny County Democratic headquarters in Pittsburgh.

He predicted the election of Sen. Joseph M. Barr (D-Allegheny) as Mayor of Pittsburgh in opposition to Republican Joseph Reinhold.

The governor also replied, "I think so," when asked whether he felt the Democratic candidates for statewide judicial office also would win.

Great Fear
White testified that he had been in great fear of Dugan, largely because of the latter's criminal record.

He said that in the roadside encounter he believed Dugan was going to shoot him and so opened fire himself. Dugan later was found to have been unarmed.

The prosecution contended that White stalked Dugan and killed him with a bullet in the back. Medical testimony was that Dugan had been shot twice, once in front and once in back, and that the bullet in the back was fatal.

Dugan led a small independent union that waged a jurisdictional strike at the cable plant. Dugan, a resident of Mountainside, N.J., had been sentenced to 12 to 15 years in prison for a $108,000 robbery of an Asbury Park, N.J., bank in 1940.

Cubans Hold Drunken Man
HAVANA (AP)—A man who staggered drunkenly toward Prime Minister Fidel Castro with a knife in his hand last week was indicted Tuesday on a charge of attempted assassination.

Walkout To Continue For Six Days

PHILADELPHIA (AP) A federal appeals court, in a 2-1 decision, Tuesday upheld a Taft-Hartley injunction ordering half a million striking United Steelworkers back to the mills for 80 days.

But the special panel of three judges of the U.S. 3rd Circuit Court added a provision permitting the strike to continue for at least six more days. This is to give the union time to carry its appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

That the union would do that was considered a certainty.

All three judges upheld the constitutionality of the Taft-Hartley injunction. Judge William H. Hastie, however, in his dissent asserted that issuance of the injunction was not necessary to the health and safety of the country as pictured by President Eisenhower. The majority felt it was.

Union attorneys said the fight will be taken to the Supreme Court probably on Monday. It was understood neither side had made special arrangements to seek Supreme Court action immediately after the appeals court finding had become known.

Supreme Court
In Washington, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said he would ask the Supreme Court Wednesday to order the union to file its appeal by noon Thursday. He indicated the government wants the strikers back on the job as promptly as possible.

"The six-day stay, together with the announcement by counsel for the union that it probably would not petition the Supreme Court for Certiorari until the end of the six-day period, means a wholly unnecessary delay in resolving the legal questions," Rogers said.

The decision of the special panel came upon a union's petition to declare the Taft-Hartley injunction unconstitutional.

The injunction was issued in Pittsburgh last Wednesday by U.S. Dist. Judge Herbert Sorger, following President Eisenhower's lead, held that the state of the nation justified sending the men back to work for the specified 80-day cooling-off period.

Tuesday's decision was hailed by government attorneys as a major victory in Eisenhower's efforts to end a strike now 105 days old and seemingly a long way from settlement despite deals two steel firms had made independently with the union. These companies are Kaiser and Detroit Steel.

The other two judges who figured in this climax to a day of fast and dramatic developments in the steel situation were John Biggs Jr., the chief judge, and Herbert Goodrich.

The decision was made public about 4:45 p.m. after money markets in the East and Midwest had closed.

At 4 p.m., litigants, newsmen and a few others, indispensable to the occasion, were locked in the big courtroom. The judges themselves were absent. What they had to say was handed out to attorneys and newsmen.

No one was let in or out. After the stock exchanges had closed, the doors were opened and reporters raced to telephones.

Expecting a plea for a rehearing of the case before the full circuit court of seven judges, the three said in a statement that they had consulted with their colleagues, split 3-3, and decided there would be no hearing. One member of the court, Judge Harry Kalodner, disqualified himself last week.

Judge Biggs wrote the majority opinion—28 pages—and was joined by Judge Goodrich. A six-page dissent was submitted by Judge Hastie.

Judge Biggs turned aside the union charge that the injunction amounted to unconstitutional legislative action by the court.

"When a court enters a status judgment such as that at bar, in our opinion, it acts judicially and not legislatively," the majority declared.

"If this were not so, a substantial portion of the jurisdiction granted to courts of the United States by Congress would fall within the interdiction of the Constitution."

Legal Action Explained To Taxpayers

JAMES Scanlon, attorney for the East Stroudsburg Taxpayers Assn., told the group last night that legal action to prevent the building of the proposed sewer system in the Borough should wait until such time as an ordinance is passed by the Borough Council.

Scanlon said any action prior to that time would only be delaying the move, while a firm basis for such legal action might be available after the ordinance is enacted.

He added that the cheapest and best way to prevent the move would be to elect those councilmen who are opposed to the sewer and have them vote against the enactment of the ordinance.

Scanlon said he could not conceive of the ordinance and the ensuing building of the sewer having any action before Jan. 1. He told the group that such an ordinance and the awarding of bids could not happen "overnight."

Entire Matter

Arthur Schiele, a member of the group, said that when Burgess Jesse Flory and Paul Delaria, a member of the authority, appeared before them, they were told the entire matter would be consummated before Jan. 1.

Scanlon also said it would be up to the group to put pressure upon those members of council expressing the opinions of those against the sewer's construction.

He said opposition to the sewer must be found on the fact that it would be prohibitive and unreasonable in its cost. If it becomes confiscatory, Scanlon said, in the taxing needed for its construction, then that would be the legal basis for opposing it. He said, however, that until the costs are determined through bidding, then the group should not oppose the move.

In other business, the Taxpayers Assn. elected officers. They are Jay Peters, president; Jack Hine, vice president; Mrs. Helen Booth, secretary; and Chester Kemp, treasurer.

Last night's meeting was held at the home of Jack Hine, 202 Smith St., East Stroudsburg.

Penn State Enrollment Sets Record

UNIVERSITY PARK—Official enrollment figures for the Pennsylvania State University have been released and they show a total of 20,377 students on the main campus plus all centers. These figures exceed last year's by a total of 508.

On Campus Total on-campus students number 14,786, which exceed last year by 152.

Off-campus enrollment stands at 5,591 for an increase of 356. The engineering and architectural curriculums have the largest enrollments in their respective histories.

Club Plans Inspection

AN inspection of all members' cars on Sunday was announced at a meeting of the Ridge Runners Hot Rod Club last night at the clubhouse.

The inspection will cover safety features and cleanliness and will last from 9 a.m. to noon. A work committee will work on the club car afterwards.

Potential members are asked to attend next Tuesday's meeting.

RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENT

The Democratic Administration when they entered office in January 1956 found that the preceding Republican Administration had left the Treasury with insufficient money to pay all outstanding bills. The present Democratic Administration by practicing economy has changed that situation so that today all bills are being paid when currently due and there is a balance in the Treasury. This the Democratic Administration has done without increasing your county taxes.

The Democratic Administration when they entered office in January of 1956 also found that on December 5, 1955 the Republican Administration had paid an architect $5400.00 for the preparing of plans for an addition to the County Home that would have required the floating of a bond issue for one-half million dollars which would have placed the County in debt for that amount. The Democratic Administration felt that by utilizing all the available space in the County Home this expense would not be necessary for many years to come. This the Democratic Administration did all, without increase in your County taxes.

The Democratic Administration upon entering office found that the Republican Administration had made no effort to rebuild the eight County bridges that had been destroyed in the flood of August 1955. The Democratic Administration immediately prepared plans and have rebuilt all eight bridges without any increase in your County tax.

The Democratic Administration also in the past four years have rebuilt four County bridges that were obsolete and needed replacing. This they have done with no increase in county taxes.

*The Democratic Administration initiated for the first time the distribution of surplus food to the needy people in Monroe County. This they have done with no increase in your County tax.

The democratic Administration has actively participated in local municipal endeavors as well as local civic endeavors, such as the General Hospital, The Monroe County Library, The West End Fair, The Mt. Pocono Airport, The Monroe County Historical Society, The Child Health Program, The Child Guidance Program, Company "G", Company F, Civil Defense, and the Flood Control Construction between the Boroughs of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg. This they have done with no increase in your County tax.

The Democratic Administration completed the work required by the States mandatory tax equalization program. This they did without increasing your County tax.

The Democratic Administration during the four years has continued all of the activities of your County Government rendering the type of service that is needed and required by the people of Monroe County. This they have done with no increase in your County tax.

For a continuation of good government as well as economical government, on November 3, 1959 vote the Democratic ticket.

of the world's most beautiful motorcar

Again Lincoln combines splendor and spaciousness, as well as superb performance, to bring you the most spirited and most comfortable fine car today.

The lines are unmistakably beautiful — clean, pure and functional. But, more than this, the Lincoln for 1960 is constructed with a fetish for detail. You'll see it in the hand-crafted leather, rich new fabrics, even the gleaming new instrument panel.

Just to look at a Lincoln is wonderful. To own one is truly a sublime experience. Yours is waiting for you in our showrooms now.

Motor Club Discusses Expanding Highway Services, Benefits

Big Demand Placed On Privileges

FURTHER steps in its long-range program of expanding services and benefits extended to its membership were discussed by the board of governors of the Pocono Mountains Motor Club last night at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

It is proposed to raise the insurance coverage carried on all members, increase the personnel in the club office to handle the mounting work-load, and provide rewards in car theft cases.

The heavy demand placed on the emergency road service privilege came to the board's attention with the reading of the financial report.

It showed a total of 142 calls during September at a cost of $685.59. The club will be reimbursed for calls for out-of-the-area motorists, but must pay the charges of its own members who use the service in other sections.

Future Date
Members of the board felt that a raise in the annual membership fee was justified at some future date in view of the many services offered at present or about to be instituted.

The present fee of $7.50 per year was set in 1942 and both costs and services have risen steadily since then, it was pointed out.

John M. Crandall, president, conducted the meeting.

Arguments Open In Mine Case

WILKES-BARRE (AP)—First arguments were heard recently on motions to throw out indictments against seven men charged with involuntary manslaughter in the Knox Coal Co. mine disaster.

Twelve men were killed in a flood at the mine Jan. 22. A three-member panel of judges in Luzerne County Criminal Court listened to arguments of defense attorneys to sever or quash the indictments. The lawyers also asked for a change of venue, and argued the bill of particulars furnished last week by Dist. Atty. Albert H. Aston.

The panel will hear further arguments Tuesday on conspiracy charges against three of the seven.

Decision
A decision on the motions to throw out the indictments is expected before Nov. 9, when the month's criminal court session begins.

The trial of the seven was originally set for Sept. 28, but motions and requests for continuances delayed the opening of the trial six weeks.

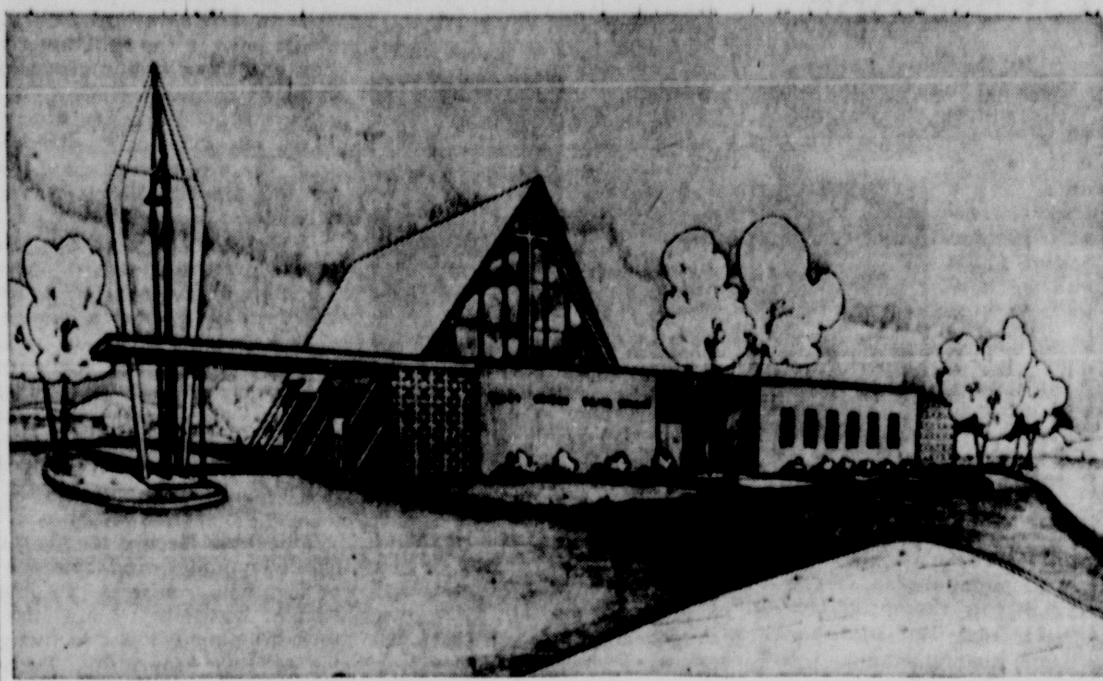

The seven men indicted on involuntary manslaughter included Louise Fabrizio, Knox Coal Co. president and treasurer; Robert L. Dougherty, former Knox president, and August J. Lippi, president of District 1, United Mine Workers of America.

GOP Rally To Be Held In Bangor

BANGOR — A pre-election Republican Rally will be staged today at 8 p. m. here in the Liberty Fire Co. Hall, Fourth Ward.

All Bangor area candidates and county candidates have been invited to attend. The invitation has also been extended to every interested voter of the Bangor area which includes Bangor, East Bangor, Roseto and Washington Township.

Members of the committee indicated last night that they are expecting more than 300 persons.

Bangor candidates for council, namely, John "Jack" Hamm and Elwood Parsons of the First Ward; Walter Warwick, Second Ward; Henry "Hank" Thomas and Samuel Hicks, Third Ward and Leonard Gruppo, Fourth Ward, will be in attendance. Also Republican school board candidates of Bangor including David Stoddard, Mrs. Charlotte Hough and Dr. Nicholas Cascaro will attend the session.

County Candidates
All Northampton County Republican Candidates have reported that they will attend including Norman "Nick" Piel and Henry Ragot, both seeking election to the position of county commissioner.

John Cascioli, Republican committeeman of the Fourth Ward in Bangor has been acting as the general chairman of the function. He is being assisted by Clair Peilly, Bangor chairman; Williams, Herman Snyder, Mrs. Eleanor Chamberlain, Mrs. Betty Adele Traves, Armon M. Williams, Mrs. Elba Kresser, Paul Wagner, Mrs. Earl Van Doren, Miss Jennie Bonisese, Kenneth Rutt, Mrs. Ruth LaBar, George Cioquinto and Miss Kathryn Sabatine.

The committee has urged all interested persons to attend.

Judge Gunther Makes Promise

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Judge Michael J. Eagen expressed concern recently over what he termed general apathy among Pennsylvanians concerning the Superior Court election campaign.

Eagen, of Scranton, the Democratic candidate for Supreme Court, told a lawyer's luncheon here that "the average citizen unfortunately, does not realize how directly an appellate court judge's philosophy of the law affects the day-to-day welfare of the people."

Missile General

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army Tuesday chose Maj. Gen. August Schomburg, a weapons specialist for years, to succeed Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris as head of its missile command.

Stroudsburg Native Wins Promotion

A NATIVE of Stroudsburg has been named manager of Information Services in the American Chemical Society's new Division of Public, Professional and Member Relations.

Robert K. Neuman, a former resident of Stroudsburg, and a graduate of Upper Darby High School, will head the division which will expand the society's communications activities.

Presently living in Cranford, N. J., since 1947, he received his degree in chemical engineering from Drexel Institute of Technology, and his master's degree from the Missouri School of Mines.

Army Officer
A Chemical Corps lieutenant from 1943 to 1946, he is now a captain in the Army Reserve. Neuman was a research engineer for the Koppers Co., Inc., and was production supervisor for Merck and Co., before joining the society.

He is a member of ACS, the Chemical Industry Assn., the Chemists Club of New York, Alpha Chi Sigma, and the National Assn. of Science Writers, and is a fellow of the American Institute of Chemists.

Judge Eagen Expresses Concern

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Republican candidate for the State Supreme Court, Judge Blair F. Gunther, promised recently that he will not carry favor with any individual or group in any opinions he writes for the high court.

He said that "a few union locals have endorsed my opponent because he would be favorable to labor."

Iron Ore Maps

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state and federal governments will make public Friday a series of geologic maps that may touch off intensive iron ore prospecting in southeastern Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Reibman To Speak At Rally

MRS. JEANETTE F. Reibman, who represents the Second District of Northampton County in the State House, will be one of the main speakers at the Democratic rally to be held tomorrow at 7 p. m. in the East Stroudsburg Armory.

The Easton woman will report on House Bill 1108, a measure amending the School Code of 1949 providing a general standard reimbursement fraction in the payment of school subsidies.

Opposition
Rep. Reibman reported the bill out of the Education Committee, which she heads, over the opposition of the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh delegations.

The legislation provides $77,000,000 aid to education and favors the smaller counties, while the one sought by Philadelphia and Pittsburgh is weighted on the side of the metropolitan counties.

The bill passed first reading in the House on Oct. 13 and was recommended to the Appropriations Committee Oct. 14.

The rally is being sponsored by the Monroe County Democratic Committee, of which John A. Brislin is the chairman.

David Katz, 68, Dies In Hospital

AN AMERICAN success story ended yesterday when David Katz, a Russian emigre, died at the age of 68 in Monroe County General Hospital after a long illness.

Born on the Russian-Polish border in 1891, Katz was determined to get to Liverpool, England, where his uncle lived. He worked his way across Europe taking odd jobs, such as carrying bags in railroad stations, in an effort to reach that city. His uncle would help him get to the United States.

After reaching England, his uncle sent him to the United States and he landed in Philadelphia where he met his father and older sister, both of whom had preceded him to this country.

He was educated in Philadelphia, and while in that city joined a dramatic group. A member of the group was Paul Muni, who later became famous on stage and screen, and who won an academy award in 1936.

Luggage Shops
In his early 20s, Katz went to New York City where he married Mary Solomon. While in that city he owned and operated a group of luggage shops.

After several years he went to Leighton where he began a scrap business. He was a charter member of Temple Israel and was president of the Eagles Lodge.

In the early 1930s he came to Stroudsburg where he again founded a firm in the scrap iron and steel business. During World War II the firm was given the Army-Navy E for efficiency.

An ardent baseball fan, which was among his sports loves, he maintained a sign on the outfield fence in the days of the Stroudsburg Baseball Club and Temple Israel Building Fund.

Hugh Scott Prods Republicans

SHILLINGTON (AP) — U.S. Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa) prodded Republicans recently by saying that "unity and organization" could carry the party to victory in the coming elections.

"We must act now," Scott said in a speech prepared for a Berks County Republican rally, "as a strong, dynamic party, unified under the banner which stands for the best interests of all people."

Playing It Cagey

No sane man who has influence or power—or both—in a major political party is ever likely to slam the door tight against the prospect of his being nominated and possibly elected to the presidency.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic majority leader, is one of those doubly endowed with stature and power. And you will not catch him slamming any doors against 1960.

To be sure, he states quite flatly that he is not a candidate. But he has not attempted to bridle his political sponsor, wise old House Speaker Sam Rayburn, who is intent on rounding up convention votes for him.

Sen. Johnson is basically a realist. He is fully aware of the barriers which stand in his path as a Southerner. No candidate from south of the Mason-Dixon Line has reached the White House since the Civil War.

Still, he has no need to make the "will not run and will not serve" statement. In fact, there is good reason not to make it.

As a potential candidate, he could carry a sizable block of votes into the Los Angeles convention. This would put him in a position to influence his party's choice, even if he cannot get the prize for himself.

The senator may well mean it when he says he won't seek the job. But he isn't silly enough to do anything that might make him a smaller man when he could be a bigger one—just by letting events take their course.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Perhaps Another Fable For Moderns

In his "Fables For Moderns," James Thurber tells the tale of the bear who reformed.

This bear, it seems, used to get drunk every night, fall flat on his face and send his wife into hysterics and terrify his children.

Then the bear reformed. He would come home every night so sober that he leaned over backwards, so he would fall flat on his back and send his wife into hysterics and terrify his children.

This, it seems at present writing, is what some segments of the television industry are doing in their near-panic over exposure of some hanky-panky on the big quiz shows.

President Frank Stanton of Columbia Broadcasting System not only is going to clean up the quiz business by throwing practically all quiz shows off the air. He isn't going to permit recorded laughter or applause to be dubbed in on taped TV shows.

He won't even permit participants in such interview shows as Ed Murrow's "Person to Person" to rehearse the questions and answers in advance—or else the public must solemnly be notified of the fact.

The next thing you know, the viewers will be warned that Edgar Bergen actually does the talking for Charley McCarthy.

Deplorable as the fixed quiz programs may have been in some respects, it would seem that both Congressional probers and critics—to say nothing of some TV executives—have overlooked a fundamental fact. That is that basically television is an entertainment medium, and all entertainment since the days of the Greek theatre has relied heavily upon fantasy and hokum.

Newspapers are principally media of information, opinion and education. They have a little entertainment thrown in, in the way of comics, gossip columns, puzzles and such.

Nobody demands that it be explained that not Daddy Warbucks, nor even the mighty Punjab, actually could "magic" Sandy into the fourth dimension. Nobody gets upset at Li'l Abner's imaginary schmoos.

Why then, when television is mostly comic strip with a little education and information thrown in, should it be expected to have all its entertainment ponderously (and probably boringly) laden with integrity?

And, of course, the really big phoniness on TV—the imitation doctors and their recommendations, the white-coated "scientists" and their "proofs" of the superiority of this or that product, the magically unguent soaps which utterly abolish dishpan hands, and the clenched-teeth, grinning hard-sell—all these are untouched.

If Rep. Oren Harris wants to be a public benefactor and really become a political hero, let him take his investigation into that field.

The Pennsylvania Story

Refreshing Change

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — One thing usually of interest in the passing parade on Capitol Hill is the emergence of new types and techniques. For example: The new "super public relations" men that have come upon the scene within the past year or so.

They are as different from the old breed as the jet airplane from the old World War I jenny.

An example of this new "improved" breed is a lad by name of John J. Kelly who now heads up his own public relations firm in Philadelphia.

Kelly, a soft-spoken, easy-going man, first came into statewide prominence back in 1956 when he directed the campaign in Luzerne County that stopped cold former Republican Gov. John S. Fine's bid for re-entry into the political arena.

He so impressed Luzerne County Commissioner T. Newell Wood Fine's antagonist, with his "new approach" that later when Wood was asked if he would serve as primary campaign chairman for the Scott-McGonigle forces, he accepted on the condition that Kelly handle the publicity chores.

At a time when the Republican organization was ripe for a stampede by virtue of the whipping George M. Leader administered there, and frightened of the political wizard and whopping finances of Harold Stassen, the Wood-Kelly combination waged a fight on little more than sheer nerve.

While Wood wrangled with county chairman after county chairman to keep them from being lured away by the Stassen treasury, Kelly saw to it that the only issues joined were those favorable to McGonigle.

However, here the Republican high command made one of the blunders that probably led to loss of the election to Democrats.

They ignored Wood in the general election and relegated Kelly to the minor post of one of the speechwriters. When the election returns were read, heavily - Republican Luzerne County went Democratic while Governor Lawrence squeaked through with one of the narrowest edges in the modern history of the state.

This unfortunate decision

George Sokolsky Says ...

Moonshining Increases

It does not seem possible, but moonshining has developed into a big industry and it is estimated that from 40,000 to 60,000 persons are engaged in producing moonshine liquor and that perhaps 150,000 more are engaged in the distribution and sale of the stuff.

What does this mean in terms of government? It can only mean that just as local governments are unable to deal with the increase in major crimes and the fact that the age of the criminal is consistently lower, year by year, so is the Federal Government unable to enforce its laws because when taxes on a commodity make that commodity too costly, contraband sales set in.

In 1958, more than 20,000 illegal stills were seized and according to statistics gathered by Licensed Beverage Industries, Inc., their production amounted to about 35,000,000 gallons of moonshine liquor which would gross about $1,000,000,000.

According to the same source perhaps 20 percent of all liquor consumed in this country in 1958, was non-taxed moonshine. This is an enormous percentage, particularly as it is now 26 years after Prohibition was abolished and the bootlegger is supposed to be out of business.

Again, the same thing is true of moonshining that is true of most other evasive crimes: they cannot be committed without the consent of government officials, particularly at the lower level.

The fact is that it takes 10 pounds of sugar to make a gallon of moonshine. Therefore the wholesaler who sells large quantities of sugar to those who can have no proper use for sugar in such huge dimensions must have some knowledge of the reason for the purchase.

There must be bankers or factors who finance these operations and whose activities can be traced by efficient government supervision.

To the distillers, naturally, this is a form of competition that is annoying, but the real issue is tax evasion.

Whenever a group is enabled to evade taxes, by whatever method, whether it is shipping money to Switzerland or Venezuela, or gyping the customs by bringing in dresses from Paris, the rest of us have to pay more taxes. There can be no excuse for creating a privileged class of those who do not pay taxes.

The moonshiner exists, because he is able to evade the excise tax on liquor. If he had to pay $10.50 a gallon Federal excise tax, plus state taxes he would get out of business. Whatever he pays to state and county officials as graft is less than $10.50 a gallon.

Therefore, he can stay in business. The moonshiner can sell his liquor, after paying graft and taking his profit, for about half the price that tax-paid liquor costs.

The size of moonshining is now so large that it needs to be taken seriously. The usual crime syndicates have gone into the business and in cities such as New York, Cleveland and Detroit, the business now flourishes on a large scale.

The heaviest concentration of moonshining stills is in the Southeastern states, although there is considerable activity of this kind in New York, Pennsylvania and Oklahoma.

Some people like moonshine liquor. They get a kick out of the illegality of it. They are thrilled by the escapade of doing something they ought not to do.

But the game is not worth the candle because all the safety devices that the law has put upon the distilling industry disappear in moonshining.

Also, it gives to the criminal elements another commodity in which they can deal freely, designating markets, dividing territories and killing those who stand in their way.

One of the fundamental moral problems in the United States is the re-establishment of the authority of the law and the punishment of those who violate the law.

Those who push heroin or marijuana or moonshine whiskey are all of the same ilk; they violate the law, organize crime syndicates and disturb society.

Invariably they are able to operate because some law enforcement agency is unable or unwilling to do its duty or has been so corrupted that it has actually become part of the crime syndicate. These racketeers move in wherever it is possible.

They are in narcotics, in moonshine whiskey, in labor unions, even in what has heretofore been regarded as legitimate business. They have their own lawyers and bankers.

They are a menace to established government, because they are organized to violate the law and evade taxes.

News From The Realm Of Stamps

By Raymond Patton

National Stamp Collecting Week will be celebrated Nov. 16-22. In connection with this observance, the 11th National Postage Stamp Show will be held in New York's 71st Infantry Regiment Armory, Park Ave. and 34th St., Nov. 20-21 and 22.

The theme of this week as well as the 11th ASDA Show is "Liberty for All". The Postoffice Department is co-operating in this theme by having the first day sale of the new 15 cent airmail stamp in New York on Nov. 20.

This stamp will be printed in orange and black and featuring a drawing of the Statue of Liberty with the slogan "Liberty for All".

Through the courtesy of the Bell Insurance Co. the Monroe Philatelic Society Junior Division will have a display of stamps in its window at 616 Main St. during this week.

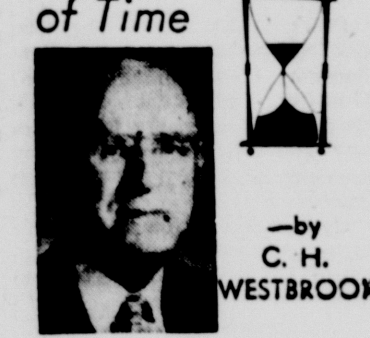

There will also be a display showing how the United States emphasizes the theme on our postage stamps, especially on the issues that are used for foreign mail, as well as some of the traditions of our Nation as shown on the various issues.

A water conservation stamp has been added to the United States Post Office Department's program of commemorative issues for 1960. The stamp, a four cent denomination will have its first day sale April 18, 1960 in connection with the seventh National Watershed Conference in Washington, D.C., according to Postmaster General Summerfield.

The stamp will be issued to help direct public attention on the urgency of water conservation throughout the Nation, with special emphasis on the protection and the improvement of our vital water sources—the forest and the fields of our upper watersheds where water first falls in the form of rain or snow.

This stamp will be the 14th issue the United States Postal authorities have announced for release during 1960.

Jim Riley Says:

Good-Bye, Good Luck, God Bless You

This is one column I never thought would be written. It is one I find doubly difficult to put into words.

This is my swan song. This is the column by which I say good-bye to my many friends in Monroe County and surrounding areas.

Today is my last with The Daily Record. The farewells come exactly 13 years and one day after I first joined The Record as sports editor.

We've marched hand in hand down the lanes of local history. We've battled through exciting sporting events, fought the flood of 1955, recaptured feeling of tragic fires and stood heart broken with you folks at the scenes of fatal accidents.

It has been this reporter's extreme pleasure to make many, many lasting friendships while on the job. These friends, I'm happy to say, include folks in the sporting circles and those in our everyday lives.

Saying good-bye has always been an extremely difficult task for me. Saying good-bye at this time is virtually impossible.

After over 10 years on the sports desk and almost three as city editor, this fat scribe has decided to make a change.

The change severs a solid working agreement between this reporter and The Daily Record — an agreement that ended on the same friendly basis by which it existed down through the years.

The Daily Record stands for the community and my successor will continue, to the best of his ability I am sure, to assist management in living up to this reputation. Daily Record employees will always remain close to our hearts.

My wife, four children and myself will move to Lancaster, where I begin work for the Lancaster Intelligence-Journal, a morning paper, next Monday. My family will follow at a later date.

We all dread the time for good-byes. Many of our friendships extend deep into the heart. We will be tearing ourselves away from a place and people we love. The parting will definitely be our loss.

But, we will have memories. Memories of the highest calibre. We can live in the past for a time and thank God for the many blessings bestowed upon us.

The parting was made doubly sad by the recent death of Jack Gray, one of East Stroudsburg's finest citizens and boosters.

My family joins with me in thanking each and every person in the area for the many kindnesses and thoughtful deeds in past years. Whatever success or pleasure we've had is due to the fine people who live in the Pocono Mountains. Whenever you are in Lancaster, the Rileys would be delighted to have you visit with them.

Good-bye, good luck and God bless each and everyone of you.

The Allen-Scott Report

Tax Agents Enter Probe

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — The Internal Revenue Service is entering the TV quiz probe with some questions of its own. Tax agents are checking a quiz show employee who reportedly got a $10,000 gift to arrange for a contestant to appear on one of the major shows.

The money was paid by an Eastern corporation to obtain national publicity. The contestant appeared, won a large sum, and the firm was plugged for several weeks in the coast-to-coast show.

Tax agents now want to know if the "gift" was reported, and if the company deducted it as a "business expense."

The Justice Department and the House committee probing the rigging of TV quiz shows are also digging into this case, but on a broader scale.

In separate actions, Atty. Gen. William Rogers and Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.), chairman, instructed their staffs to determine if this practice was widespread in the TV industry or just an isolated incident.

The staffs are also looking into reports of "kickbacks" to TV show employees by contestants.

The Justice Department plans to turn its evidence over to a grand jury it is empaneling here next month.

Representative Harris will air his findings after the probers grill TV quiz winner Charles Van Doren.

Sources on the Harris subcommittee report that Van Doren's appearance may turn out to be a bigger story than even most of the advance reports have indicated.

The 33-year-old New York teacher who won $129,000 will be interrogated about his backing-and-filling on testifying before their subcommittee as well as to whether he was given questions and answers on the now defunct "Twenty One."

The former lien of questioning could produce as many sensations as the latter if Van Doren is responsive.

A subcommittee member reports that one network official and a "mystery" witness will

Abigail Van Buren

Because They Love You

Dear Abby: My mother would have made a wonderful warden for Sing Sing. And my father is worse. They never take my word for anything. If I am going to a girl's house, they call up to see if I'm really there.

I have never lied to them, Abby, so how come they treat me like a criminal? I am 15 years old and sometimes I feel like running away and never coming back. Why must my parents always check up on me and how can I get them to trust me?

NOT TRUSTED

Dear Not: Your parents probably check up on you because they think you are too good to be true. Don't resent it. Be grateful that they care enough about you to want to know where you are and what you are doing. Continue to be trustworthy and you'll be checked up on less and less and trusted more and more.

Dear Abby: We have three beautiful children. They are exactly 14 months apart. I am expecting again in December. Why are people so cruel with their remarks? We are thrilled with the prospect of having another baby but when we try to share the news, people say, "Oh, heavens... not again!" Or else, "One of you had better get something done!" My husband and I are beginning to feel ashamed to mention it.

Our children aren't neglected. They are well cared for and we don't leave them to relatives or sisters. We can afford to raise them without depriving one to give to the other. What do we say to people who feel sorry for us and even try to force advice on us?

HAPPY PARENTS

Dear Happy: Why bother to say anything? You owe these people no explanations.

Confidential To "Can't Sign Name": If you don't know, nobody does. You have no legal problem, however, because all children born to you while you are married to your present husband are considered, by law HIS children.

Fine Public Service

Editor and Staff Daily Record

Gentlemen:

May I take this opportunity of congratulating The Daily Record for the fine public service they have afforded the citizens and voters of Monroe County in carrying the biographical sketches of the major county office candidates in our paper.

This excellent and informative service along with the co-operation of the League of Women Voters makes the duties of the chairman of a political party more rewarding.

The slate of Republican candidates and the county committee thank you and the League for this service in the interest of better government.

Sketches Helpful

Dear Sirs:

I thank you for the idea of presenting to your readers an opportunity to both see and hear what the up-coming political candidates have to recommend.

It is very helpful.

Shipping Scandals — A House Antitrust subcommittee probing shipping industry scandals has uncovered evidence that the International Cooperative Administration is being overcharged hundreds of millions of dollars in freight costs on foreign aid shipments to the Far East.

Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) chairman, has dug out secret agreements from industry files showing that the lines agreed to levy rates 25 percent above normal on military and economic aid shipments to Laos and Korea.

The Brooklyn Democrat has turned the documents and names of the lines over to the General Accounting Office and the Federal Maritime Board with a demand that these agencies take immediate action to try to recover the overcharges.

Celler also has asked Maritime Administrator Clarence G. Morse to determine whether the lines are in violation of the Shipping Act for failing to file the agreements with the board as required by law.

If it turns out to be the case, the lines could be liable for fines that might bankrupt the industry. This possibility was suggested by Morse when grilled by Celler at a subcommittee meeting.

"Is it possible that these companies might be held in violation at the rate of $1,000 a day and this might involve millions of dollars?" asked Celler.

"That is correct," replied Morse. "But the amounts probably would be hundreds of millions. It is so great the fines would bankrupt every steamship line."

Rep. Celler also has obtained admissions from officials of one shipping line that regular "kickbacks" had been paid to brokers in Switzerland on certain types of cargoes exported to Europe.

Note, Earlier this year, Rep. Celler furnished the Federal Communications Commission with evidence that resulted in that agency ordering the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to reduce long distance phone rates by $50,000,000 a year.

Hansen Talks At Meeting Of Democrats

MONROE County District Attorney Detlef A. Hansen last night spoke before the county Democratic organization advocating the election of all Democratic candidates on the November ballot.

The meeting was at Wesley Chapel, Stroud Township.

Hansen said that he had campaigned with almost all the candidates, and he emphasized they are all qualified for the offices.

In his speech, Hansen reviewed the records of the following candidates:

Judge Michael J. Eagen, for the state Supreme Court, stating his experience, intelligence and hard work made him the best qualified candidate for the office.

Judge Harry M. Montgomery, for Superior Court, citing his service on the Common Pleas Court in Allegheny County.

Associate Judge

Walter D. Heckman, for associate judge of Monroe County, stating his business experience and knowledge of the county will be invaluable on the bench.

Harry T. Hamblin, for associate judge of the county, saying his years of teaching school plus his business acumen would be of great aid to the court.

Jacob F. Altomare, for sheriff of Monroe County, citing his legal experience both as warden of the jail and as chief county law officer.

N. Henry Fenner, for prothonotary and clerk of courts, marking the devotion to duty exhibited by Fenner.

James R. Marsh, for district attorney, remarking on Marsh's ability, background and personality for the position presently held by Hansen.

Floyd Butz, for register of wills and recorder of deeds, telling of Butz' modernization of the office during his terms.

Mahlon S. Besecker, for county auditor, telling of the years he has served the county in that post.

John R. Lesoine and Willard Quick, for county commissioners, citing their present work in those positions.

Finally, Hansen remarked on the present Democratic administration of the county and the progressive work it has accomplished since it took office in January, 1956.

18 Employees Honored For Suggestions

TOBYHANNA — Eighteen employees received suggestion awards totaling $440 here at the Army Signal Corps Depot yesterday.

All the employees work in the Maintenance Division, where used Signal Corps equipment is repaired. Their adopted ideas will save an estimated $7,136 during the first year of their application.

Depot Commander Col. Clifford A. Poutre presented the awards and thanked the suggestors for their "active, thinking interest" in the depot's operations.

Largest Total

The largest single award went to Stanley Janowicz, Throop, for his idea to use a jig in the testing of certain radio sets. The jig consists of a test board to which connections from the radio's components are made, thus avoiding the point-to-point check within the sets themselves. This suggestion was estimated to save $1,746 yearly.

Daniel Palumbo, Plains, received two awards totaling $70. One of his ideas, estimated to save $1,275 annually and for which he won $60, is the invention of a vise to hold heavy cables in place for soldering. Previously, another employee had to help in this assembly operation.

Palumbo's other idea, submitted jointly with Stanley Kairo Jr., Plymouth, will improve safety factors in the Electric Shop, with intangible savings. Each received $10.

Joseph Knight, Scranton, won a $55 award for suggesting that a certain segment in the huge radar sets undergoing repair could be supported with brackets, eliminating the need for welding. By the use of this method, dismantling of the power supply and wiring circuits became unnecessary, effecting estimated yearly savings of $1,193.

Other winners were: Ugolini Cici, Jessup, $27.50; Raymond Szcucki, Jessup, $27.50; John Walko, Hazleton, $25; Michael Burke, Scranton, $25; Vincent Beggane, Mount Pocono, $25; George Brady, Swoyerville, $25; Isadore Zibuck, Exeter, $12.50; James Gillespie, Tobyhanna, $12.50; Arthur Frisbie, Lake Ariel, $10; Robelling Davis, Edwardsville, $10; William Nauman, Cresco, $10; Thomas Palermo, Gouldsboro, $10; Henry Halat, Dupont, $7.50, and Joseph Mancuso, Archbald, $7.50.

Trial Dealing With Fatal Automobile Wreck Delayed

THE TRIAL of Philip Newman, 21, of 604 Thomas St., Stroudsburg, which was to have started yesterday in Phillipsburg, N. J., has been adjourned until further notice, The Daily Record learned yesterday.

Newman is charged on three counts: A technical charge of causing death by automobile, reckless driving and overcrowding an automobile.

No Reason

The office of District Court Judge M. Bry Nilsen, of Warren County, informed The Daily Record that the adjournment had been made, but no reason was given.

The date the trial will be started was unknown.

Republicans To Meet

POCONO PINES — A Top of the Mountain Republican rally will be held at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow in the headquarters of the Pocono Pines Volunteer Fire Department.

County and local candidates will be present and refreshments served. The public is invited.

Radio Group To Meet

THE Pocono Amateur Radio Club will meet at 8 p.m. today at the Civil Defense Room at the Courthouse.

During the meeting a tape recording on ham activities in the area will be heard.

Treatments Made At Dispensary

TWO-YEAR-OLD Jeffrey Posinger had a tough time explaining it, but X-rays taken at the Monroe County General Hospital Dispensary revealed a fractured shoulder. Jeffrey's parents noticed his discomfort after he had fallen out of bed. The parents of Suzanna Hine-line, age three, of Stroudsburg, brought her to the dispensary saying that she refused to use her left arm. X-rays revealed a sprain.

Contusion Edward Van Why was treated for a contusion on his left wrist, which he injured in gym class, and Lloyd J. Fenley, age nine needed three sutures to close a laceration of the scalp.

Earl Palmer was engaging in football scrimmage for the East Stroudsburg Junior High School when his left knee was twisted in a peculiar position as he was hit from the side. An examination revealed internal derangement of the knee and he was treated.

Miss Elizabeth Walter, of Shawnee, was treated for a fractured ankle.

Five Teenagers Being Held In Prison On Delinquency

FIVE TEENAGERS are being held in Monroe County Jail on charges of delinquency. They are scheduled to receive a further hearing next Monday.

The group, including three 17-year-olds, one 16-year-old and one 14-year-old, was committed to the jail after a hearing Saturday before Judge Fred W. Davis.

Throwing Stones State Police charged them with throwing stones through windows in Hamilton Township and the Brodheadville area. The group includes one youth from Pen Argyl, RD 1, one from Stroudsburg, RD 1, and three from Scio.

Three of the group are permitted to attend school while detained. They leave the jail in the morning and return after classes in the afternoon.

Deed On Record

A DEED transferring two lots in Middle Smithfield Township from A. Lawton and C. Elwood Huffman, executors of Edith Huffman, Marshalls Creek, to J. Carlyle and Spencer C. Cramer, Smithfield Township, was filed yesterday in the office of Floyd Butz, register and recorder, in Monroe County Courthouse.

Just Between Us —

—by Bobby Westbrook

Me and the "wooly bears" were both prognosticating weather yesterday. "Feels like snow," I shivered in the damp afternoon. "They look like snow clouds," I predicted in the darkening night. What the wooly bears were predicting I can't tell since the ones I've seen have been all brown with no black saddle at all.

Maybe I'd better stick to predicting that the next few days are going to be hectic. That's a pretty safe prediction almost any time, except for the fourth week of the month. But with Halloween and politics bustin' out all over, even the fourth week isn't safe.

A week from today we'll know, and a great quiet will descend on victor and vanquished alike but meanwhile it's going to get pretty noisy. Although that depends. We mortals are really awfully self-centered. Whatever we happen to be interested in at the moment seems the most important thing in the world, and it always comes as a shock to find people who don't even know it's going on.

It seems inconceivable to me that anybody wouldn't keep track of the scores during World Series time, or the status of the steel strike, or the comparative qualifications of the various candidates running for office.

Equally mystifying to some housewives must be my abysmal ignorance on what the special is at the food store this week, the age and value of a certain piece of antique china, or the newest scandal in the life of a movie star.

Well, it really doesn't make much difference if you aren't interested in sports and I don't know one movie star from another, but it sure would make a difference if we aren't interested in politics. Although, to be honest, I could skip this last week of it, when tempers fray and nerves get tangled and best friends stop speaking to each other and candidates revert to the sticking-out-their-tongue stage of settling arguments.

Anna Logan Calendar Names Due

This is the final week for members of the Anna Logan Society of the General Hospital to turn in their list of birthday names and meeting dates for the Anna Logan 1960 Birthday Calendar.

Names should be telephoned or taken to Mrs. Horace Butler or Mrs. C. B. Altomose before the end of the week.

Mrs. Metzgar Is Honored By Daughters

A surprise birthday party was held in honor of Mrs. Emilie Metzgar by her daughters, Mrs. Dolly Price, Mrs. Connie Metzgar and Mrs. Dorothy Custard at the Frank Custard home, East Stroudsburg.

A roast beef dinner was served to the following guests: Mrs. Metzgar, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Metzgar and children, Karen, Shirley and Buddy, Mrs. Claude Metzgar, Mr. and Mrs. George Vogt, Mrs. Dolly Price and children, Millard and Terry Lynn, Earl Miller, Joyce and Linda Miller, Mrs. Marland Halterman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Custard and son, Martin, Art Lyons, George Vogt Jr. and Joe Baran.

Unable to attend were Mrs. George Vogt Jr. and son, Ronnie, Marland Halterman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cooper and daughter, Emilie of Hatboro.

There were gifts and music entertainment by Earl Miller and Buddy Metzgar with everyone joining in the singing.

P.M. Club At Corner House

SWIFTWATER — A meeting of the P.M. Club of the Swiftwater area, was recently held at the home of Mrs. Carl Hamblin, of Corner House, Woodland Road.

Plans were discussed for the November and December club meetings, and arrangements are being made for the annual club dinner.

Fall flowers decorated the Hamblin home and refreshments were served following the business meeting. Members who attended included: Mrs. Norman Fansen, Mrs. Glenn Boote, Mrs. Willard Webster, Mrs. Anthony Bolyn, Mrs. John Hamblin, Mrs. Russell Knerr, and the hostess, Mrs. Hamblin.

MODEL FOR THE MIDDLE EAST—Barbara Jean Crowther is amused at the idea that at 5 she could fit into the baby dress which her mother is holding up for her. The dress and other good children's clothing is intended for orphans and refugee children in the Middle East to which Mrs. Ross Fuller is pointing. Mrs. Fuller and Mrs. Crowther are in charge of the collection which will be a feature of the first World Community Day in the county on November 7. (Staff Photo by MacLeod)

Dramatic Presentation Of World Needs Part Of First Community Day Services

A dramatic presentation, in costume, of how the contributions of United Church Women are used around the world will be featured at the first annual World Community Day, on Friday night, November 6 at 8 p. m., at the Christ Episcopal Church.

Planned by the newly organized Monroe County Council of United Church Women, it will feature contributions by the members of many denominations.

The dramatic presentation will center around the establishment of Institutes of Learning in the underdeveloped countries of the world sponsored by the national organization. These centers are schools where women may learn housekeeping, home nursing, sewing and other skills designed to better their homes.

The needs of the various countries will be presented by women of the community, in costume: Mrs. A. Byrd McDowell will represent the Middle East; Mrs. John Shinn, Pacific Islands; Mrs. Walter Reives, Ghana in Africa; Mrs. Harold Eaton, Japan; and Mrs. T. I. Metzgar, South America. The production is under the direction of Mrs. Harry Smith.

Another feature of the Community Day service will be the collection of good used clothing for children and babies to be sent to orphans and refugee children around the world. A box will be placed in the narthex of the church to receive the clothing, which should be placed there unwrapped. In addition there will be a box in which those donating clothing are asked to place eight cents for each pound of clothing to cover shipping costs. Mrs. Wesley Crowther and Mrs. Ross Fuller are in charge of the clothing collection.

Miss Sandra Selwood has written the letters, informing the ministers of the community of the service.

Ushers are being recruited by Mrs. Earl Delk and Mrs. Edward G. Evans.

Fidelity Circle Has Dinner At Scotrun

PORTLAND — Following the annual dinner of the Fidelity Circle of the Portland Presbyterian Church at Rhodes Coffee Shoppe, Scotrun, on Tuesday night, the group was entertained at the home of Mrs. Henriette Van Vorst of the Candle Art Shoppe, Swiftwater.

Mrs. C. J. Knealing presided at the business meeting. They voted a cash donation to the Hazleton Home for Harvest Home. Mrs. Raymond Transue, Mrs. Ethel Seely and Mrs. G. J. Davies were named to the nominating committee.

Those attending were: Mrs. Pauline Strock of Bedford, Pa.; Mrs. Lela Williams and Miss Agnes Williams of Slateford; Mrs. C. J. Knealing, Mrs. Paul Sigafuss, Miss Katherine Delp, Miss Alice Delp, of Middle Village; Mrs. Raymond Transue, Mrs. E. Randall Carpenter, Mrs. Ethel Seely, Mrs. G. J. Davies, Mrs. Edgar Dalberg of town and Mrs. Henriette Van Vorst, of Swiftwater.

Marriage License

A MARRIAGE license was applied for yesterday from N. Henry Fenner, clerk of orphan's court, by Joseph Freach, Pocono Summit, and Theresa H. Deskevitch, Pocono Manor.

Willing Workers Dance Friday At Flying W

The Willing Workers of Paradise Valley are holding a Halloween party and dance on Friday night at 8 at the Flying W Ranch, Route 90. There will be a grand march, prizes, refreshments, entertainment and square dancing. The public is invited.

Plans for the part were completed at the annual banquet held at Green View Guest Farm. Those attending were Mrs. Hilda Heydt, Mrs. Jerry Cramer, Miss June Heydt, Mrs. Paula Barth, Mrs. Clara Depue, Mrs. Evelyn Beatty, Miss Mary Beatty, Mrs. Dorothy Wilkinson, Mrs. Mabel Niering, Mrs. Karlene Wicks, Mrs. Orpha Bessecker, Miss Margaret Bogert, Mrs. Jane Stiff, Mrs. Trudy Goll and Mrs. Louise Koerner.

Diane Walters President Of Tri-Hi-Y

The Senior Tri-Hi-Y elected officers at their meeting Monday night at the YMCA with Diane Walters, president; Bonnie Lee Sanders, first vice president; Jo Anne Dippre, second vice president; Judy Vaughn, secretary; Paula Wagner, treasurer; Gail Patehen, chaplain, and Barbara Hill, publicity.

A Thanksgiving Dance committee was named to include Sandy Radler, Barbara Hill, Bonnie Sanders, Cheryl Van Why, Paul Wagner, Gail Feller and Lynn Mackey.

The group also plans to enter a truck in Thursday's Halloween parade.

Music Parents Begin Year With Supper

The Music Parents of Stroud Union High School got off to an enthusiastic start with a covered dish supper at the high school cafeteria on Monday night. Mrs. Virginia Kirkhuff was in charge of the supper.

Robert Haigh, president, introduced the officers which include Mrs. Kirkhuff, vice president; Mrs. Donald Whitaker, secretary; and Mrs. Detlef Hansen, treasurer.

A special event was scheduled for January 29 at the high school. Mrs. Elton Denning and Mrs. William Wyckoff, co-chairmen of season tickets, explained the advantages of paying in advance for all coming performances.

Numa Snyder and John Pyle, music supervisors, thanked the group for their cooperation and outlined plans for the coming year.

To Sponsor Party For Co. Home

BROOKDALE — The United Lutheran Church Women of Brookdale will sponsor a birthday party at the County Home at the end of the month. Members decided after hearing Mrs. Karlene Muddell explain the plan.

The meeting was held at the home of Miss Bertha Storm. Mrs. Lloyd Altomose presented the program on the United Nations and Miss Storm led the quiz session. Several members will attend the first annual convention of the Eastern district to be held at the Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg.

Values Of Testing Brought To Smithfield PTA, Report Of Building Progress Given

An excellent attendance of the Smithfield PTA on Monday evening, listened to Mrs. Lydia Strait, testing specialist of Stroud Union School District. Mrs. Strait brought out the importance of tests in assisting the child to be properly placed in his classes, and the great assistance the testing gives to the teachers in recognizing the abilities of the children. Tests using pictures allow teachers to know the true ability of children even though they cannot read, or are poor readers. She pointed out that the attitudes of children toward school are started in the homes, and that the ability to read, itself, is first established in the family, with the use of language, of reading stories, etc. Remedial reading is needed when children get frustrated and cannot read easily. Tests locate the child's reading and achievement levels. She said she felt it was more important for a child to compete with himself in order to make progress, than to look for high marks on report cards.

There was a short business meeting, during which it was reported by Russell Scott,

Here are a few Tips . . . to keep your suits and dresses smart! Allow breathing room between garments hung in your closet. Hang garments on a shaped, correctly sized hanger. Spots or stains should not be rubbed, pressed over or ignored too long—they may damage the fabric. Dry clean clothes regularly and choose Keiper's Launderers and Cleaners to do it. Call HA 1-8930 or bring them in—So. 9th St. near Main, Arc.

Miss Gloria Melvin Bride Of Norman E. Warner

Miss Gloria J. Melvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Halsey M. Melvin, of 125 North Ninth St., Stroudsburg, became the bride of Norman E. Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Warner, of Analomink, on Saturday, October 24, at 2:30 p. m., at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz-length gown of cotton blue chiffon over blue satin with a velvet bodice trimmed with rhinestones. Her hat was a horsehair halo of cotton blue and she had a corsage of white orchids and pompons. They were attended by their respective parents. The bride's mother wore a royal blue silk dress and matching hat with white accessories and a corsage of pink, sweetheart roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue silk print dress with matching hat, white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. William Metzgar, organist, played "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Gerald Staples, East Stroudsburg. The room was decorated with white helms and streamers, and a miniature bride and bridegroom. A three-tier wedding cake formed the centerpiece for the bridal table.

The bride was graduated from Stroud Union High School in the class of 1958. The bridegroom attended East Stroudsburg High School. They will make their home temporarily with the bridegroom's parents in Analomink.

Word has been received of the safe arrival in Braconne, France, of SP5 Robert B. Starnier Jr. and his bride, of Tannersville. He will be stationed in France with the 83rd Engineering Battalion for three years. He has previously spent 17 months in Korea and the past 20 months in Fort Belvoir, Va.

He is the son of Mrs. Clifford Werkheiser of Tannersville and his wife is the former Eleanor Hardenstine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Hardenstine of Stroudsburg RD 3. Both are graduates of Pocono Twp. High School Tannersville.

Their present address is SP5 Robert B. Starnier Jr., RA 23748258, Braconne, APO 211, New York, N. Y.

Creative Writing Class Still Open For Members

The Creative Writing Class, sponsored by the Pocono Art Center, met on Monday night at 7:30 with their leader, Mrs. Irving B. Kiffin.

Original manuscripts by two members were read and discussed. Contents of current magazines were compared. Mrs. Kiffin assigned topics in fiction, poetry and articles. The course is open to the public, including beginning writers, who need not have writing experience. College students are also welcomed. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Kiffin at HA 1-6162.

Mrs. Dougherty Honored At Birthday Party

Local Lodge Women Honored At Convention

Katherine Knox, who was installed at State Associate Councilor at the state convention in Harrisburg, and Elizabeth Strohl, Monroe Council representative reported at the meeting of the Sons and Daughters of Liberties here.

At the meeting plans were completed for a Past Officers Banquet this Saturday at Saylor's Lake House with Mrs. Martha Smith as chairman.

New officers will be installed at the Tri-County Booster meeting in Easton on Saturday, November 7. Mrs. Elsie Counterman, president of the Boosters will attend a meeting in York on November 14.

A reunion supper was held after the meeting in the dining room, decorated for Halloween. Members who received honors at the state convention were honored: Mrs. Knox, state associate vice councilor; Mrs. Elsie Counterman, national representative; Mrs. Mary Kunkle, deputy to Bangor; Mrs. Strohl, deputy to Stroudsburg and Mrs. Knox deputy to Palmerton.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 3, at 8 p. m. with the public invited to a party in the dining room conducted by Mrs. Kathleen Goodall following the meeting.

Jr. Crusaders Decorate For Halloween Party

BARTONVILLE—Elizabeth Mering presented an illustrated Bible study on the book of Ruth when the Junior Crusaders of St. John's Lutheran Sunday School met at the parish house on Friday night, Oct. 16. Group singing was led by Mary Eileen Communal. Dawn Frailley read the Scripture lesson and led in prayer.

John Field presided at a brief business session. Reports were given by Amy Young and Kathryn Cyphers.

A pot luck supper was scheduled for Nov. 20, at 6 p. m. A business and devotional session will follow the meal.

Members of the group were invited to attend the Halloween party, sponsored by the Senior Crusaders, to be held at the parish house on Friday night, Oct. 30, at 8. After the meeting the Junior Crusaders decorated the social room for the party.

Those attending were Sheila Herb, Kathryn Cyphers, Dawn Frailley, Sarah Jane Cyphers, Joanne Dunbar, Valerie Robbins, Katrina Kresge, Mary Feitig, Judy Veety, Amy Young, Linda Hahn, Joy Merring, John Field, Danny Epright, Clair Whitmore, Geoffrey Robbins, Scotty Young, Elizabeth Mering, Mary Eileen Communal, Pauline Cyphers, Ruth Dunbar, Dorothy Heller and Thelma Field.

Refreshments, featuring cider and doughnuts, were served by Dorothy Heller and Thelma Field.

Little White-Haired Lady Prefers Court To Rocker, Press Informs Daughter

You can never tell what your mother will be up to when the children leave, Mrs. Robert A. Miller, Main St., Stroudsburg, decided after receiving a feature story about her own mother which appeared with a picture in the Anderson, South Carolina, Sunday paper.

Dated Laurens, the story begins "That white haired lady you saw sitting there on the front bench right next to that gang of guilty pleaders in Criminal Court here last week was no defendant."

"That was Mrs. Lucie Belle Bolt Culbertson, a mother of 13, grandmother and great grandmother and life long native of Laurens County who hasn't missed a General Sessions Court here in years."

She prefers rape trials "With its numerous ramifications" but she gets a bang out of murder trials, too, the article says and quotes her as saying:

"I enjoy every minute of court from the testimony of contradicting witnesses to the clashing of attorneys."

"I don't think my interest in rape and murder cases is morbid. It is the responsibility of every citizen to go to such trials if they can. The public should become informed about the morals of their community and take such steps possible to improve conditions."

"There are plenty of people who haven't got the courage to face up to fact brought out in crime cases. These are the ones who prefer to ignore the distasteful and criminal facts of life. Sometimes I think the indifference of so-called 'good' people is almost as bad as the crime committed by the 'bad' people."

Mrs. Culbertson, who is described as having "serene blue eyes and hair the color of spun silver" is the widow of John Dennis Culbertson, a school teacher and merchant farmer of Laurens Co. who died 21 years ago. Part of her interest in court cases may be due to fact the two of her sons are lawyers.

But she has other reasons: "It would be impossible to measure the educational benefits I have received from attending court," she said.

"Going to court gives me something to meditate about. It has shown me that there is no such thing as a completely no account person. People commit bad acts because they are miserable and unhappy. There is much philosophizing going on about ways to change the world into a better place. I tell you, and it's a fact, the only way to make this world a better place is to start improving on yourself."

Neola Church Halloween Party

Neola — The annual Halloween party of the Neola Methodist Church will be held in the basement on Saturday, October 31 at 7 p. m. All members are asked to bring doughnuts, cupcakes or potato chips for refreshments and a 25 cent gift for prizes.

Everyone is welcome.

Varied Program For Bartonville Homemakers

An all day meeting of the Bartonville Home Extension Club was held in the Wesley Chapel social hall on Wednesday, Oct. 21. It was decided that a varied program, including sewing, cooking and other projects, would be scheduled for the winter months.

Sewing was the theme of the meeting for the day. This project will be continued on Wednesday, Nov. 4, when the group will meet at the home of Mrs. J. N. Canfield Jr., at 1 p. m.

Members attending were Mrs. Samuel Dunbar, Mrs. James N. Canfield Jr., Mrs. Robert Bonser, Mrs. Mary Lee Vican, Mrs. Russell Bond, Mrs. Donald Hartman, Mrs. Lillian Rice, Mrs. Richard Coss and Miss Margaret MacLaren. Also present was Debbie Werkheiser.

Jolly Janes At Dunbars'

BARTONVILLE — Mrs. Joseph Dunbar entertained members of the Jolly Jane Club of Bartonville at a meeting held at her home on Tuesday night, Oct. 20. A social time was enjoyed. Mary Alliger received the hostess gift.

Mrs. Mary Lee Vican invited the group to meet at her home on Nov. 10.

Refreshments were served. Members present were Mrs. Fred Walters, Mrs. Emma Metzgar, Mrs. Frank Herting, Mrs. James N. Canfield Jr., Mrs. Donald Hartman, Mrs. Russell Bond, Mrs. Richard Coss, Mrs. Mary Lee Vican, Miss Mary Alliger, Miss Emma Dunbar and the hostess Mrs. Joseph Dunbar. Also present was a guest, Miss Joanne Dunbar.

Two members were unable to attend as they were vacationing. Mrs. Roy Schreck was on a trip to Florida with her husband, Mrs. Haviland Heiler, with her husband, and her mother, Mrs. Maude Bush, were touring the New England States.

Let's Give Enough

AR Wyckoff Shopper

Ruth Boston, an attractive young woman from Barrett Township, and president of the Allied Youth there, came into our office Saturday to tell me that her organization is interested in collecting UNICEF funds this Halloween.

As you recall, in 1958 there was a very intensive drive here to raise funds for the children around the world who are in need of help. This was part of the United Nations Week observance in Monroe County, sponsored by the League of Women Voters, with Marcia Clapp as chairman.

While there is no county-wide campaign this year, I am informed that a number of schools in and outside of the Stroudsburgs, are planning to collect the UNICEF funds in place of the usual Trick-Treat bit. My own daughter and a few of her friends have decided to do this . . . and, as mentioned above, Barrett will have its door-to-door visitation sparked by Allied Youth.

All of this, I think quite wonderful and deserving of our support. So, if you are visited by masked children or young people, representing UNICEF, please try to contribute—if only a dime, or a quarter. You won't be sorry, I know. Just recently I was talking to a very famous woman, whose name you would recognize at once if I were to mention it. Somehow or other we mentioned tithing . . . giving one tenth of one's income to the church. "I believe in it heartily," she said, "and do it religiously with my personal income, although my husband is so deeply involved in enterprises and such he cannot do so—it has something or other to do with income tax brackets." We talked about the passage in the Bible, showing that even then a taxation problem interfered with giving. Remember that quotation, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's?"

After a few minutes of silence, the lady finally mused, "You know, I have never once given a penny, that it hasn't been returned to me in dollars . . . and I have never known a tither who was in need. It's almost as though God says to us, 'Take care of Me and My children and I will take care of you.'"

This, I suppose, would be a rather ulterior motive for giving . . . but, whatever our reason, let's try to be more sharing. Most of us could do without many little, unnecessary luxuries . . . or could very well delay their purchases just another salary so that they might give a little—to the Community Chest . . . the UNICEF solicitors . . . and the many other less fortunate people whose tragic stories fill the press each day. And may God smile upon our gifts, however small.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

For Wednesday, October 28
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—A good planetary set-up. Start the day with the will and the ambition to do well, and you will. In dealing with others, don't be overly aggressive, however.
April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—This day should encourage you to double efforts if possible and necessary to get the fullest benefit from generous influences. Be cooperative with associates.
May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Fine Mercury influences should stimulate clever thinking, new ideas. With smart direction, you can make this a highly profitable day.
June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Your Moon, in fine position now, encourages many lines of endeavor. The artistic and scientific fields are especially favored. How much you accomplish is really up to you.
July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Your Sun's influences can be used to great advantage—depending upon how promptly you start your schedule, how conscientiously you follow through. Aim high, and you can reach worthwhile objectives.
August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—The planet Mercury in your Sign suggests two things now: know facts and know your own limitations and give wholehearted support to worthwhile causes. You can achieve.
September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Don't seek to do more than is reasonable, and do not waste valuable time or energy on petty people or affairs. Remember the high aims of your true nature; seek for goals.
October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—Many people may offer suggestions. It doesn't hurt to listen. UP TO A CERTAIN POINT, one can become unduly confused, too. Reach your conclusions through unbiased reasoning.
November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius)—Avoid a tendency toward irritation. Look the other way, with nothing to say. And don't forget your sense of humor! Your fine talents and abilities are in great demand now.
December 24 to January 23 (Capricorn)—You may find competitors, associates on edge, be yourself, smile and don't let them get you down. Use your innate practicality; it will carry you over hurdles.
January 24 to February 19 (Aquarius)—It is better to take your time and do things right than to hurry and feel fatigued as a result. Don't let anyone drive you against your better judgment. Be sure you are in the right.
February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—You may be able to accomplish even more than you think you can, but to do well at all, you must put misgivings and doubt aside.
YOU BORN TODAY: "Your" planet Mars indicates strong success-making potentialities—inventiveness, ambition to achieve the worthwhile, and the know-how to cut red tape and accomplish quickly. Mars, however, also warns against overambition, which so often is a characteristic of the determined, energetic, bright individual. You require plenty of fresh air, rest, sleep and abstemiousness from worry, management, investigation, organizational work, suit your talents. Birthdate: Capt. James Cook, Eng. navigator and explorer.

Good Hunting Predicted For Northampton County Season

BANGOR — Hunting ranging from good to fair is foreseen by John Linaberry, game chairman of the Northampton County Federation of Sportsman's Clubs, when the season opens on Saturday, but he adds: "It could be better."

The big 'if' is intercepted by the rise in predatory wildlife, held responsible for the significant decrease in legal prey as gunners embark on their annual incursions of fields and forests.

With the advent of fall and a change of weather, the Bangor sportsman points out, predatory creatures have less of a choice of food and they step up their assaults on game and this rather than outlaws shooting is the answer to the perennial mid-October question: "Where did all of the game go?"

Edward Faler, a Pennsylvania Game Commission employee who specializes in predator control, emphasized the need for action in this respect during speaking appearances before two area rod and gun clubs within the past fortnight.

A student of wildlife since his boyhood, Faler noted that the predatory population has been increasing steadily because the bottom has dropped out of the fur market and trapping is passing into oblivion.

With this activity on the wane, predators are getting out of hand. The game nimrods kill, he declared, is only a small portion in comparison to that destroyed by predators.

He cited the crow, hawk, owl, blue-jay, fox, skunk, raccoon, opossum, weasel and mink as some of the common predators. Even the woodchuck may be considered in this category since the 'ground-hog hole' is a trap rather than a refuge for game fleeing from natural enemies.

Linaberry, in reviewing the pre-season situation, urges hunters to match every game kill by shooting a predator and he also advocates a program by gun clubs which would establish a fund for the payment of bounties on predators.

The Federation chairman reports that the rabbit crop in the county is about the same as last year, thanks to favorable Spring and Summer weather. Only a few turkeys have been sighted — less than last year — but "Let's face it," he says, "this is not a turkey county."

He describes the pheasant population as the largest ever and credits the fine program of Game Protector Harold Wiggins for this condition. Grouse have remained status quo although a count has been difficult due to tree foliage.

Squirrels are more plentiful. He predicts more drastic steps will have to be taken to kill them off if hunters do not take a heavy toll. Quail are making a comeback but to continue slow progress he advises sportsmen not to wipe out coveys encountered. Leave some for breeding.

In addition to recommending an all-out drive on predators, Linaberry has a word of caution for the season. "Be sure of your target before you shoot," he counsels. "Practice safety first."

Mrs. Rebecca Shannon of Morristown, N.J., and Miss Melba Shannon, daughter of Mrs. Shannon of New York City were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dalberg. The Shannons are cousins of Dr. David R. Edwards, former pastor of the Portland-Mount Bethel Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Carl Kramer is a patient in the Eastern Hospital.
